Lawsuit to eliminate candidates fails

Don Howard
Staff Writer

A circuit court judge has ruled that Plymouth Township candidates Kurt Heise and Don Schnettler will be on the primary election ballot Aug. 2 despite a lawsuit attempting to have their names removed.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Brian R. Sullivan issued a court order June 1 stating the plaintiff in the suit, Plymouth Township resident Carl Berry, 76, failed to show reasonable cause for removing the candidates' names and ended his legal action.

> "I'm pleased with the court decision that dismissed this frivolous lawsuit financed with a dark money PAC (Political Action Committee).

A public hearing of the issue took place May 25 in the City County Building in Detroit after Berry filed suit to block Heise and Schnettler's candidacies. Heise is the lone challenger to incumbent Plymouth Township Supervisor Shannon Price while Schnettler is seeking a term as a township trustee. Berry's lawsuit, funded by the Faith and Freedom Coalition, requested that Plymouth Township Clerk Nancy Conzelman, named as a defendant, immediately remove Heise and Schnettler's names from the ballot as they did not designate the voting precinct in which they live on their candidate affidavits of identity.

Berry contended in the 50-page court filing that Heise, currently a term-limited state representative, and Schnettler, a long-time township resident, should not be allowed on the

No charges filed in shootings

No charges have been filed against any of three men arrested during a home invasion and shooting that left one man dead last month.

The men were arrested following a shooting at a home on the 34000 block of Glenwood Street near Second Avenue in the morning of May 26. The resident of the home called police at about 9:36 a.m. saying that he had shot a man who had forced his way into the house, according to police reports.

When police arrived, the man injured by the resident and two other suspects had fled the scene. The three were later located at Beaumont Wayne Hospital where the injured man sought treatment for the gunshot wound. He died of the injury at the hospital and was identified by police as Ishamel Govantes, 24, of Westland. The other two men were identified only as a 24-year-old resident of Belleville and a 22-year-old resident of Inkster. While both men were arrested at the hospital on charges of home invasion, police were forced to release them from custody due to the lack of charges from the office of the Wayne County Prosecutor.

The resident of the home suffered a gunshot wound to his leg and was transported to Beaumont Hospital Dearborn for treatment. When he was released after treatment, police arrested him on stolen weapons charges.

Police investigators said that the shooting and home invasion were not random and that the men had a prior relationship. Unconfirmed reports said that the incident was some kind of retaliation for the resident having recently evicted his live-in girlfriend and her child.

Art Camps to begin

Plymouth Community Arts Council is making final preparations for the Summer Art Camp 2016 program, a nine week season of 40 art, music, theater, pottery, film and photography day camp programs for ages 5-17. Camp Week One begins June 20 and includes lead instructors who have real-world art experience. Among them are two professional actors, a local writer and filmmaker, a professional photographer, a published comic book artist, BFA Pottery and painting instructors, and professional graphic designer. What they have in common, along with our support staff, is a dedication to creativity and fun when it comes to the arts.

"My number one requirement when interviewing potential instructors is that they have to love creative young people, both the ones that follow your lead, and the ones that think outside of the box. Our camps are about exploring possibilities, not following a model or making the project look like the sample. I want the PCAC to be known as a place where young people can create their own extraordinary however that happens, and on their own level,"said Director Lisa Howard.

Young artists age 5-7 have their own 2-hour camps in theater and a variety of themed studio classes. Teen student artists can register for: Pop Art Graphic Design; Actor's Workshop; Acrylic Painting; Digital Photography; Cartooning; Film Making, Guitar, Advanced Pottery, Fashion Design and Three Dimensional Art. Theater Improv, Art-In-Motion (Dance + Art), Musical Theater and traditional performing arts camps are also on the schedule, Howard added.

Most camps are for 3 hours a day for 5 days, Monday-Friday. Fully-staffed Before, After and Lunch Care options available for $5 each per day. For the fifth year, free, one-on-one Art Buddies are available for art campers with special needs. The pilot program started in 2012 with a generous Arts For All grant from The Wilcox Foundation.

Art campers from last summer show off their completed creations.

Registration is available online by clicking the Registration button on the homepage at www.plymoutharts.com. Families may also register in person, by phone or by mail.

Registrations are accepted until midnight on the Thursday before the camp begins. In-person registrations are accepted until 4 p.m. Thursdays for the next camps.

Blues, Brews and BBQ

Premier event returns to Westland

The premier event in Westland, Blues, Brews and BBQ will take place Aug. 5 and 6, explained Mayor William Wild.

As in years past, Wild said, thousands will be treated to some of the Detroit Blues Society most popular acts, amazing barbeque and a wide variety of popular micro-brews.

This year marks a special milestone as Westland celebrates 50 years as a city, he said. In commemoration of the anniversary, Blues, Brews and Barbeque will be bigger and better than ever before, according Wild. He said Westland native and American Idol and country music star Josh Gracin will headline and that a historic firework celebration is planned for Saturday evening.

Proceeds from this event are donated back to area non-profits and community groups who volunteer to help plan, organize and operate the event. To date, more than $150,000 has been donated to these local organizations, Wild said.

In addition to Conzelman, Berry named Wayne County Clerk Cathy Garrett, the Wayne County Election Commission and the Plymouth Township Election Commission as defendants in the court filings and asserted they may have been dilatory in not requiring the missing information.

Berry, a self-described supporter of Price, insisted he acted on his own volition and initiative when he retained attorney Robert Huth Jr. of Kirk, Huth, Lang and Badalament to research and prepare the lengthy court brief. Calling himself a Republican activist Berry said, "I do this a lot." Berry said at the time he "had no idea" as to the legal fees or the cost of the suit.

A footnote on page 1 of the complaint references Faith & Freedom/Plymouth Township, a 501(C)(4) social welfare nonprofit which permits donors to remain anonymous. The Faith and Freedom logo recently appeared on controversial mailers sent to Plymouth residents aimed at discrediting Heise's support of certain state legislation.

"I'm pleased with the court decision that dismissed this frivolous lawsuit financed with a dark money PAC (Political Action Committee)," Heise said after learning of the decision. Schnettler agreed and said he felt, "A lot of the tricks they're pulling are backfiring-it shows how desperate they are."

Sullivan's court order returned the status of the candidate applications to status quo and denied Berry's request for attorney fees and court costs and included lan-

Primary will decide several township terms

All four of the candidates elected to terms as Plymouth Township trustees will be Republicans.

Only one Democrat filed to have her name included on the Aug. 2 primary election ballot in the township which will reduce the 10 hopeful trustee candidates to four who will then face no opposition in the November General Election.

Incumbent Trustees Mike Kelly, Bob Doroshewitz and Chuck Curmi are all seeking reelection and will be facing Don Schnettler; Jack Dempsey; Gary Heitman; Michael Olianski; Thomas Parrelly; Teresa Somercik and Alexander Roehl.

Kelly is seeing his third four-year term and Doroshewitz is seeking his fourth term. Curmi is seeking a sixth term on the board.

The supervisor's race will include current Supervisor Shannon Price who was appointed to the top spot about a year ago after the resignation of Richard Reaume. Price will face veteran legislator Kurt Heise, now a Michigan State Representative who is term-limited at his state office. Both are Republicans so the winner is not expected to face any opposition on the November ballot.

Incumbent Township Clerk Nancy Conzelman will be challenged by former state legislator Jerry Vorva in the August primary where, once again, there is no Democratic challenger.

Incumbent Treasurer Ron Edwards, seeking his sixth term, will be challenged by newcomer Mark Clinton, also a Republican, in the primary election. The winner will then face the only Democratic candidate to file for any office in Plymouth Township, Mary Siefert, a former Harrison Township treasurer.

CANTON - NORTHVILLE

Volunteers are honored by state association

The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP) volunteers in Canton Township were the recent recipients of a Community Service Award presented by mParks, formerly known as Michigan Recreation and Park Association. The award was presented in recognition of their ongoing commitment and contributions within the Canton community.

Canton Township first began participating in The Emergency Food Assistance Program in December, 2009. This federally-funded supplemental food program, which is currently administered in Canton by the Canton supervisor's office, distributes food to low income families, with a goal of providing better access to nutritional food.

Each month, Canton Leisure Services coordinates community volunteers who distribute TEFAP food items to qualifying residents on the third Wednesday at the Summit on the Park.

Canton volunteers unload and sort pallets of food items and then package it for distribution according to the recipient's family size. In addition, these volunteers often assist with registration, distribution, and loading of commodities into the program recipients' cars. The TEFAP process starts with the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) purchasing food, which is made available to the Department of Social Services, who then provides it Wayne County, from which Canton receives it for distribution.

"This mParks Community Service Award is further proof that Canton's dedicated volunteers are truly making a difference within our community," said Canton Leisure Services Director Debra Bilbrey-Honsowetz. "Because of their many hours of hard work, we are able to serve the children, families and seniors who need help within the Canton community."

Members of Canton's TEFAP volunteer program currently include: Marian Busa, Gloria Cifaldi, Becky Copenhaver, Wayne Fercho, Tina Gitary, Sue Goodchild, Dennis Hindman, Rita Morris, Cam Nellett, Nila Patel, Mary Jo Raeck, Richard Pientak and Marilyn Shedd.

Canton volunteers have collectively logged more than 2,200 hours of community service since the program start, with most of the volunteers continuing to serve since the inception of the program.

For additional information about The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP), as well as other Canton Leisure Services classes, programs and events, visit www.cantonfun.org or call (734) 394-5460.

4 promotions marked by Northville Fire Department

Four members of the Northville City Fire Department were recently promoted to the rank of lieutenant. The promotions, announced recently by Fire Chief Stephen Ott, included:

Brian Bohnet who has been with the department for 13 years. In addition to his qualifications as a firefighter and EMT, he is a department fire inspectors, and a fire instructor through the state of Michigan. Bohnet will serve as the department training officer;

John Lapenta, a 15-year veteran of the department, who serves as a firefighter/EMt and led the department public education activities. He earned a degree in fire science and represents the department with the Western Wayne Fire Department Mutual Aid Association Technical Rescue Team. Lapenta will now serve as the EMS coordinator for the department;

Matthew Samhat, who has been with the department since 2012 after his graduation from an in-house fire academy. He is a firefighter/EMT and also earned a bachelor of arts in criminal justice degree. He also represents the department as a member of the Mutual Aid Association Technical Rescue Team;

> Sixteen firefighters applied for the four promotions to lieutenant.

Robert Weiland has more than 37 years of experience as a firefighter/paramedic and also has a background in electrical engineering. He has completed training as an incident safety officer and a health and safety officer. Weiland will serve as the quartermaster, with responsibility for department equipment.

Sixteen firefighters applied for the four promotions to lieutenant, Ott said, and the successful candidates were chosen following a review of the applications, interviews with both Ott and an interview with an oral board comprised lieutenants and captains from neighboring communities. Two of the new positions are replacements of retiring firefighters in the department and two are new positions authorized by the Northville City Council.

Currently, Northville City Fire Department personnel provides fire services for both the City of Northville and the City of Plymouth from three stations. The department is staffed by a full time chief and 55 part-time and paid on-call firefighters and EMS responders.

Inkster - Wayne

Judge sentences teen to probation

Following his guilty plea, a Wayne teen has been sentenced to 18 months probation and 80 hours of community service as punishment for setting the fire that destroyed the former bakery building at the Eloise hospital property in Westland.

Trevor Bauer, 18, will serve his community service at the Disabled American Veterans thrift store in Westland. He entered a guilty plea to charges of third-degree arson and possession of burglary tools in the incident. Another teen also faces charges in the fire, but his name was not released as he is a juvenile, reportedly a 16-year-old Westland resident.

The fire, which the teens allegedly started on the second floor of the abandoned bakery building on the historic property, had fully engaged the building when firefighters from Westland, Garden City and Inkster arrived on the scene. Firefighters initially reported there was difficulty in accessing the building due to a fence erected to keep out trespassers. When firefighters arrived, they said, the roof was nearly collapsed and the second floor was sagging, making entry into the structure to battle the blaze impossible. The building, according to official reports, will have to be demolished due to the fire damage.

The property, which includes the Wayne County Family Center and the Wayne County Sheriff's office road patrol division along with a county clerk's satellite office, is owned by Wayne County.

The property, excluding the operational offices, has been listed for sale by county officials for $1.5 million and includes the former Eloise Hospital and several other outbuildings, all of which have been abandoned for several years.

Shooting witnesses sought

Michigan State Police are still investigating a shooting that took place recently and are requesting help from the public.

Inkster police officers were dispatched to 26110 Dunning St. at about 11:25 p.m. May 22 after a shooting was reported. Upon arrival, officers interviewed a 28-year-old resident of Inkster who had been shot once in the buttocks as he was walking westbound on Dunning Street.

The victim told officers that a blue or black colored Dodge Charger occupied by three men of unknown description drove past him and that one of the men in the vehicle shot him. He told officers that he did not know why anyone would shoot him and could offer no motive for the drive-by attack.

The man was transported to Beaumont Hospital Dearborn where he was reported in stable condition. Detectives from the Michigan State Police Special Investigative Section have requested that anyone with any information regarding the incident to contact officers at (855) 642-4847 or call Crime Stoppers at 800-773-2576.

Motion by Bennett, supported by Williams to adopt the Program Year 2016-2020 Consolidated Plan and the 2016 Annual Action Plan and authorize the submission of the Five-Year Consolidated Plan and Annual Action Plan to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Motion carried unanimously. Every five years, HUD requires communities participating in the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program to submit a Five-Year Consolidated Plan, which outlines priorities for the CDBG program for the next five years. The Consolidated Plan is an extensive document, requiring considerable research and writing. Canton retained a consultant, Wade Trim, to prepare the plan under the direction of Canton Township. Canton's Five-Year Consolidated Plan considers the needs that HUD requires each community to address: general housing needs, the homeless, seniors, the mentally ill, lead-based paint remediation, public housing, fair housing, and barriers to affordable housing. Canton is already adequately addressing these needs with its own and CDBG funds, or the needs are handled by outside agencies. Canton is not "locked in" by the Consolidated Plan, and it can be amended at any time to include new priorities or revisions to existing priorities. The One Year Action Plan is a portion of the Consolidated Plan that must be updated annually. It provides detailed information on the resources Canton expects to receive and the activities to be undertaken to meet the priority needs identified in the Consolidated Plan. The Consolidated Plan and Program Year 2016 CDBG Annual Action Plan were developed at public hearings of the CDBG Advisory Council, and as its name implies, the recommendations of the Advisory Council are suggested but not compulsory. The Program Year 2016 CDBG program is consistent with past years' programs, and includes a mixture of public service agencies and construction projects. The 30-day public comment period for the Consolidated Plan and Program Year 2016 CDBG program ended May 29, 2016. The total CDBG budget for Program Year 2016 is $310,524. The recommended projects are First Step ($13,000), Growth Works ($1,000), Neighborhood Legal Services ($13,000), Wayne-Metropolitan Community Action Agency ($13,000), Summit Scholarships ($1,500), BLOCK Tutoring Services ($5,078), Administration ($62,104), ADA Play Feature ($25,000), ADA Pathway ($20,000), ADA Aquatic Lift ($6,842), Sheldon School ($50,000) and Housing Rehabilitation ($100,000). Moved to Study Session at 6:26 p.m. STUDY SESSION TOPIC 2016 MSD Five-Year Strategic Plan Director Faas and Bob Belair outlined the content of the five year strategic plan that was developed late last year and has been refined over the past several months. Last fall, the Romulus Arts Council, in partnership with the Romulus Downtown Development Authority, sought 2D artists and photographers to submit high quality images for a temporary outdoor public art installation. The theme was open to interpretation regarding the words "Art in Nature".

"Music and art are things people of all ages can relate to and enjoy. It's a great way to get together with your neighbors and friends," said Mayor LeRoy Burcroff.

Artists from throughout the region submitted 150 pieces for the contest including entries from Michigan, New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, Ohio and Chicago. A jury of experts have chosen 10 to be temporarily displayed throughout the city until June 2017.

The top three artists will also receive cash prizes.

Science Expo

Romulus Middle Schools students experienced some hands-on approaches to engineering and construction recently at The Construction Science Expo at the Michigan Science Center. The Expo, which promotes a drug-free workplace, included professionals from the Michigan Department of Transportation who gave the students some insight into how to perform specific job duties as well as provide answers to some job related questions. The students were able to attend the expo courtesy of the Black Caucus Foundation of Michigan. "The live demonstrations are certainly enough to sway students toward pursuing a career in the skilled trades," said 7th grade student Brett Sherwood. The annual event provides an engaging learning opportunity for students outside of the classroom, according to a school spokesman.

Scholarships awarded

Members of the Belleville Rotary Club awarded 10 scholarships during the 71st Annual Award Program May 24.

Ten Belleville High School graduates were each awarded $2,000 scholarships, seven of those were first-time awards and the other three renewal of scholarships awarded last year.

Jared Bellingham, Brandon Bond, Bianca Crowder, Justin Green, Leah Hardy, Jayla Jackson and Kameron Owen, all 2016 graduates were awarded first-year scholarships while Vernice Lowe, Emily Mall and Haley Richardson had their financial awards renewed by the civic group.

During the evening events, Belleville Rotary Club Scholarship Committee Chairman Debra Juchartz introduced the guest speaker, former district governor of Rotary International District 6400 Elizabeth Smith Yeats.

Belleville Rotary members have awarded $470,000 to Belleville High School students during the more than 70 years of the scholarship program. The primary funding source for the program is the Charles B. Cozadd Rotary Foundation which assists the club in the funding or partial funding of many projects.
